Villa Vina is a breathtaking seafront luxury residence belonging to the revered resort grounds of Casa de Campo. This flagship residence embodies the ultimate tropical Island fantasy, specially designed by world-renowned architect Duccio Ermenegildo fusing authentic Palapa rusticism with contemporary elegance.

This unique estate comprises five living pavilions, presenting a delectable philosophy of beach living in tandem with glorious tropical environs. Erasing the distinction between indoor and outdoor living, a magnificent living room pavilion with exotic palapa thatched elements opens entirely unto stunning surroundings. Enchanting plastered walls dazzle in cheerful pops of Latin color, enhancing alluring seating arrangements that reconcile barefoot bohemian charm with minimalist elegance. Crisp interiors dazzle with contemporary precision and pared-down soothing palettes. Villa Vina's thoroughly uncluttered aesthetic is conducive to utter peace of mind and total rejuvenation. Rounded edge interiors, sleek tile flooring, and ultra-crisp linen upholstery curate an exceptionally seductive holiday ambiance, perpetually wafted by a balmy sea breeze and heady tropical aromas. An expansive multi-island kitchen is fully equipped with commercial-grade appliances offering endless opportunities for gastronomic exploration. Separate pavilions offer incredible privacy and comfort between the six bedrooms while maximizing interaction with the home's tropical oasis.

BOCA CHAVON

Casa de Campo, a tropical seaside resort in La Romana on the southeast coast of the Dominican Republic, was developed in the 1970s on 7,000 acres of the area's former sugar mill land. It has turned into one of the world's most prestigious holiday destinations for luxury travelers and one of the country's most affluent communities. Casa de Campo has a modern, 400-berth marina, complete with a shipyard. The marina has played host to the Rolex Farr 40 sailing cup. Surrounding the harbor are more than 70 restaurants, many exclusive shops, bars, and gorgeous homes. What an ideal destination for a luxury vacation!
