KAURI COVE

BAY OF ISLANDS, NEW ZEALAND

Kauri Cove is an enchanting gem of an estate overlooking the gorgeous sandy coastlines of Moturua Island. Conceived by acclaimed Kiwi architect Pete Bossley, this fabulous beach home takes full advantage of soothing water and Island views. Utterly informed by the pristine natural beauty of the idyllic Moturua Island, this residence is ideally suited for total rejuvenation and reconnection with the elements.

Flaunting a unique staggered layout attuned to the gently undulating topography of its grounds, Kauri Cove is a masterwork of luxury living in tandem with nature. Gorgeous wooded interiors flaunt slanted vertices and expansive glass walls, imparting an exquisite sense of permeability. Thoroughly dynamic descending concept interiors are garnished with contemporary chic furnishings, with an urban palette of grey complementing the home's warm lodge-like ambiance. Sloped double-height exposed beam ceilings accentuate the home's characteristic shape. At the heart of the Cove's unique living concept is the split-level living area coalescing around the focal fireplace. Ample sunlight streams through endless glass panes animating the lustrous glimmer of the vast kitchen countertops and top-of-the-line stainless steel appliances. Each of the estate's six individually appointed bedrooms flaunts spellbinding ocean views and private terraces, affording all guests exceptional discretion, comfort, and living space. In addition, a separate guest house contains two bedrooms, bringing the island guest capacity to a comfortable 14. Additional bedrooms are also housed in a chic readapted helicopter hangar, complete with a kitchen.

Maximally interacting with the spellbinding Island vistas, Kauri boasts east-west exposure inundating each square inch of the estate with abundant sunlight. Embraced by wooded foliage, this home presents the epitome of natural immersion with gently undulating verdant lawns leading to a spellbinding private beach.
